

Santa Fe Skyway Line To Start Operation Soon

Santa Fe Skyway, Inc., new air cargo affiliate of the Santa Fe Railway, will begin operations within a few weeks flying special types of freight in the territory served by the railroad between Chicago and the West Coast.

H. R. Lake, former general superintendent of transportation for the railroad, has been named president of the new company, which will have its headquarters in Wichita, Kansas.

At the start, the air line's facilities will consist of not more than five war-surplus Douglas C-47 planes capable of carrying 5500-pound pay loads at 190 miles an hour, Lake said.

The line will carry specialized types of cargo, including perishables and light packages. No schedules will be issued, and all shipments will be on a contract basis. No passenger service will be offered.

Santa Fe Skyway will be manned largely by veterans of the military air forces.

In Mark's Gospel it is related that Jairus, a ruler of the synagogue, came to Jesus and besought him greatly, saying, "My little daughter lieth at the point of death: I pray thee, come and lay thy hands on her, that she may be healed; and she shall live." While he yet spake, there came from the ruler of the synagogue's house certain who said, "Thy daughter is dead; why troublest thou the Master any further?" But Jesus said unto him, "Be not afraid, only believe. . . . And when he was come in, he looked the damsel by the hand, and said unto her, 'Damsel, arise.' And straightway the damsel arose and walked."

Mary Bar Eddy writes in "The Human Concept": "The human concept of matter, death, disease, sickness, and sin are all that can be destroyed." "Man's individual being can no more die than disappear in unconsciousness than can Soul, for both are immortal."

Unemployment Insurance Claims Fall After Record Winter Payment Period

After a winter which saw all records for payment of unemployment insurance in California broken, the number of people obtaining weekly checks in this state is decreasing.

This announcement was made today by James G. Bryant, chairman of the California Employment Stabilization Commission, who said that with the beginning of seasonal employment throughout the state, insurance payments gradually are starting to drop.

Bryant quoted April figures to indicate the decrease. For the week ending April 4, the department paid 195,831 unemployment insurance checks, compared to 184,536 for the week ending April 25.

New claims for insurance, he pointed out, are the best indication of prospective decreases.

For the week ending April 4, 16,330 persons filed new insurance claims, but by the end of the month, only 9799 claims were filed.

Some decrease in veteran readjustment allowance payments also is evident, Bryant said, with weekly claims dropping from 12,130 during the first part of April to 10,937 during the last week of the month.

The total of all claims, Bryant said, dropped from 360,306 the first week in April to 336,693 the last week of the month.

California reached a high point in payment of unemployment insurance claims during the week of February 28, when 216,401 compensable claims were filed with the Department of Employment.
